SUBJECT: Letter of Recommendation

It is my honor to give my highest personal recommendation to Mrs. Kelly Narowski. Since September 3, 2009, she has given nineteen safety briefings to Fort Campbell-based units, including Infantry, Aviation and Sustainment Brigades and a Special Forces Battalion. Feedback from her briefings has been exceptional; many Soldiers say this is the most effective safety talk they have ever attended.

Mrs. Narowski tells her personal story and links her actions and life-changing injuries to specific risks Soldiers often take while driving. Her use of photographs and video materials always keep the interest of the audience, comprised of young men and women whose attention is prone to wander. In my 16 years of professional safety experience, I have never seen a more effective demonstration of the consequences of high-risk choices and behaviors.

It is clear these presentations are very personal to Mrs. Narowski. As the wife of an active duty officer, she has insight into the challenges faced by deploying and redeploying Soldiers. She readily tailors her presentation to the audience, to include a recent group of teen drivers, the sons and daughters of Sustainment Brigade Soldiers.
